This unreliabel infortation in the stationary of the process of the stationary of the support of the whole vargas following, or much of it. Meanwhile, the opposition (as far without a strong candidate of their own to agree upon) is putting tremendous pressure on Kubitshek to withdraw in favor of a single "union" candidate, which, of course, would reduce the upcoming October / 1955 / election to a mere yes or no plebiscite. Even Care Filho has spoken up for a "single" candidate; and the armed forces are getting itchy. 2. It is my impression that under no circumstances will the group which ousted Getulito Vargas allow anyone whom it believes to be remotely linked with the Getuliatas to come to power, even if it means establishing a military dictatorship. 3.
